DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 30 June 2008 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 12, 14, 15, 17, 20, 21 and 41-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In claim 12 (and claims 14, 15, 17, 20, 21, 41 & 42 dependent thereon), the recitation of oscillations operating at a first speed, a second and different speed, and alternating between the speeds is new matter. While the original disclosure supports the broad recitation of varying speeds including randomly varying speeds, the instantly claimed subject matter is not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed. Simply stated, the disclosed genus (i.e. varying and/or random speeds) does not support the claimed species (specific speeds). Accordingly, the newly added subject matter is considered new matter. Similarly, new independent claims 43 & 47 (and claims dependent thereon) recite specific speed sequences not supported by the original disclosure as filed and constitutes new matter for reasons of same. If applicant disagrees, applicant is urged to particularly point out where the newly added claim language is supported in the original disclosure as filed. Moreover, applicant is urged to carefully review new claims 42-49 in accordance with the restriction/election of species mailed 31 January 2007. Simply stated, the new claims may be subject to restriction and election by original presentation per the restriction requirement upon clarifying the new matter issue.
